Imperfect Transcriptions: The 24 Études of Frédéric Chopin, for Monique.

David Gepp

26 Sept–31 Oct 2009

Imperfect Transcriptions is a new series of colour photographs by David Gepp – extraordinarily vivid studies of grasses, gorse and meadow flowers which abound with rhythm and intense colour. The photographs are shown alongside the poetry of R S Thomas and Chopin's piano pieces, the 24 Études. The exhibition invites us into an intimate relationship with the music and the natural environment, and considers the deep issues of life – chaos and order, the everyday and the sublime, life and death, pain and beauty.

Our Terrain

Martin Collins, John Hedley & Terry Mart

7 Nov–24 Dec 2009

Three artists from North Wales are looking at the landscape, each with their own perspective. Martin Collins work looks outwards to the horizon and the wider view of coastlines and rugged mountains; his connection with the North Wales Landscape begins on foot, with good days yielding a painting 'en plein air'. John Hedley aims to highlight the beauty and variety of some of the more enclosed natural worlds that we take for granted and indeed often hardly ever notice. Terry Mart is working with images that display simple narrative threads through juxtapositions of buildings, nature and people, with the landscape becoming more metaphorical than topographical.

Le Chéile

A Welsh-Irish collaborative project – communication through printmaking

9 Jan–13 Feb 2010

'Le Chéile', meaning 'together' is an exhibition created from a collaboration between the Leinster Printmaking Studio, based in Co. Kildare, Ireland, and the Regional Print Centre in Wrexham. It has involved a series of working prints, drawings, collages and emails, travelling back and forth across the sea, with artists responding to work they have received. Co-ordinated by Alison Craig and Monica de Bath, it includes work by more than 15 printmakers, and is an ongoing project.

A Print Workshop will accompany this exhibition. 01745 882523 for details

Climate Change

27 Feb–10 Apr 2010

A selected exhibition in all media, from artists across the UK, on the theme of Climate Change. This is one of the greatest social, economic and political issues of our time and this exhibition provides a platform for artists to 'have their say' on this global problem.

My Community: Rhyl

17 Apr–12 Jun 2010

An exhibition bringing together diverse projects from artists and groups within the Rhyl area, including some short films that are part of the ongoing 'Reso' project. Results of artist led workshops held within the community are on show, as well as work looking specifically at the changes that have and are taking place in Rhyl. The work is presented in a variety of different media.

Glen Ibbitson

Consignment

Glen Ibbitson

19 Sept–7 Nov 2009

This series of work originated from an earlier project about illusionism and deception called Smoke and Mirrors; the work is a product of a search for a definitive image on the theme of escapology. Developed in a period shadowed by extraordinary rendition and covert human migration across the continents, the compositions show an individual tightly confined within a crate like cell. Issues such as social and psychological isolation, political oppression and the high risk strategies employed in acts of voluntary /coerced human trafficking are being explored.

Monoprint workshop with Glenn Ibbitson.

Travel 'n' Bags

Mary Spence

14 Nov–9 Jan 2010

Mary Spence works creatively with textiles and printmaking, producing colourful images inspired by her many travels. Small bags and clothing from various countries have been collected, and ideas from the bags in particular have been developed into monoprints and mixed media textiles for this show.

An ideal exhibition to find that special Christmas present, with a mixture of crafts to complement the work.

Two workshops with Mary Spence, using printing and textiles.

Wise and Foolish Dreamers

16 Jan–27 Feb 2010

Wise and Foolish Dreamers is a touring exhibition exploring the role of Wales within the Spanish Civil War – and especially the contribution of the Welshmen who went to fight in Spain. Issues of governance, the role of War, the nature of the heroic, nationalism and our relations with peoples across the globe are all examined here.

Accompanying this exhibition are free workshops for schools.

Lines and Strata

6 Mar–17 Apr 2010

An Open Exhibition which presents a cross section of contemporary drawing practice from artists across Wales. This is not limited to a tightly prescriptive view of works on paper and submissions have been welcomed from any discipline. Every medium has been considered, where the elements of drawing predominate.

'At the intersection of visual stimulus, cerebral analysis and physical interpretation via hand and arm, emerge the marks we identify as drawing. Drawing is democratic, classless, egalitarian. It affirms individual potential in a collective world. Its means are accessible, affordable, portable. It is a fundamental human activity; timeless, essential, compulsive.' Glenn Ibbitson

Rising Slowly

Helen Grove-White

24 Apr–22 May 2010

Taking oceanographic and scientific research as a starting point the artist explores climate change and sea level rises, past, present and future. Through the media of photography, sculpture and video Helen Grove-White produces work which is powerful and thought-provoking.

COMMUNITY ARTS AND EDUCATION

Denbighshire Arts Service runs a community arts programme in conjunction with a number of community groups and agencies. The programme encompasses all art disciplines and endeavours to reach all parts of the community and county.

We also run workshops for schools linked to the current exhibition programme in Rhyl, Denbigh and Ruthin libraries and galleries. Schools are able to explore the work in the gallery as well as producing practical work under the guidance of a professional artist or our education officer.

If you are a community group, school or an individual who would like to participate in arts activities or who would like our support for your own arts activities, please contact Sian Fitzgerald on 01824 708216.

Consignment

Glen Ibbitson

19 Medi–7 Tachwedd 2009

Datblygodd y gyfres hon o brosiect cynharach ynglŷn â rhithiolaeth a thwyll o'r enw Smoke and Mirrors; mae'r gwaith yn gynnyrch chwilio am ddelwedd ddiffiniadol ar thema campau dianc. Fe'i datblygwyd mewn cyfnod dan gysgod trosglwyddiad all-gyfreithiol ac ymfudiad cudd pobl ar draws cyfandiroedd; mae'r cyfansoddiadau yn dangos unigolyn wedi ei gyfyngu mewn crât fel cell. Mae pynciau megis unigedd cymdeithasol a seicolegol, gorthrwm gwleidyddol a strategaethau risg uchel a ddefnyddir mewn gweithredoedd o ddelio gwirfoddol / gorfodedig mewn pobl yn cael eu hystyried.

14 Tachwedd–9 Ionawr 2010

Mae Mary Spence yn gweithio'n greadigol gyda thecstilau a phrintiadau, yn cynhyrchu delweddau lliwgar sydd wedi eu hysbrydoli gan ei theithiau. Mae bagiau bychain a dillad o amrywiol wledydd wedi eu casglu, ac mae syniadau o'r bagiau yn arbennig wedi eu datblygu yn monobrintiadau a thecstilau cyfrwng cymysg ar gyfer y sioe hon.

Arddangosfa dda i ganfod yr anrheg Nadolig arbennig hwnnw, gyda chymysgedd o grefftau i fynd gyda'r gwaith.

6 Mawrth–17 Ebrill 2010

Arddangosfa Agored sy'n cyflwyno croestoriad o arferion darlunio cyfoes o bob cwr o Gymru. Nid darnau o waith ar bapur yn unig a geir yma, gan fod yr arddangosfa yn agored i waith o unrhyw ddisgyblaeth. Ystyriwyd pob cyfrwng, lle mae elfennau darlunio yn oruchaf.

'Ar groestoriad stimwlws gweledol, dadansoddiad serebral a dehongliad corfforol trwy gyfrwng llaw a braich, daw'r marciau a adnabyddir fel darlun. Mae darlunio yn ddemocrataidd, di-ddosbarth, egalitaraidd. Mae'n cadarnhau potensial unigol mewn byd cyfunol. Mae'n hygyrch, fforddiadwy, symudol. Mae'n weithgaredd dynol sylfaenol; yn ddi-amser, hanfodol, gyriadol.' Glenn Ibbitson

Our Terrain

Martin Collins, John Hedley & Terry Mart

7 Tachwedd–24 Rhagfyr 2009

Tri artist o Ogledd Cymru yn edrych ar y dirwedd, pob un gyda'i bersbectif ei hun. Mae gwaith Martin Collins yn edrych i gyfeiriad y gorwel a golygfa ehangach arfordiroedd a mynyddoedd; mae ei gysylltiad gyda Gogledd Cymru yn cychwyn ar droed, gyda dyddiau da yn arwain at beintiad 'en plein air'. Mae John Hedley yn anelu at danlinellu harddwch ac amrywiaeth rhai o'r bydoedd naturiol mwy amgaeëdig rydym yn eu cymryd yn ganiatáol ac, yn wir, nad ydym yn aml yn sylwi arnynt. Mae Terry Mart yn gweithio gyda delweddau sy'n arddangos llwybrau naratif syml trwy gydosodiadau adeiladau, natur a phobl gyda'r dirwedd yn fwy trosiadol na thopograffig.
